

Barcelona, 2016

FORC, the coat stand designed for Mobles 114, is inspired by the traditional and refined gentleman cane shape. During the project's development, its emblematic shape evolved to the abstract and sculptural shape it embodies today.

FORC consists of three beech wooden poles, whose different heights allow kids to hang their coats without needing help. Thanks to its hook-shaped ends, the iron piece that ties the structure together enables to hang umbrellas or bags on its inner and outer side. All in one, an aesthetic but also functional coat stand is achieved.

Photography: Meritxell Arjalaguer, Jara Varela

